This is the narrowest of the Habitent range making it suitable for boats with narrow sterns. It has been specifically designed to fit on boats with or without side decks and with or without a sprayhood

Whilst our range of products is designed such that no permanent installation fittings are required to your boat, in the case of boats without side decks it may be necessary to put attach some fittings to the hull or under the rubbing strip.

In line with the all products in the Habitent range, this unit will provide you with shelter from the wind, rain and sun and this, combined with its compact size when not in use, makes a must have accessory for your boat. The Habitent offers all round visibility and maximum headroom throughout, ideal to extend your leisure use of your boat when not under way.

The unit is not designed as, nor should be used as a cover for your boat.
